

EXPLOSION ENTOMBS 250 CANADIAN MINERS

ONLY FOURTEEN OF THE FIFTY RESCUED ARE LIVING

Thousands of Tons of Rock Have Fallen Into the Mine and It Is Feared That Many Have Been Crushed to Death—Forming of Gases Causes the Disaster.

LETHBRIDGE, Alberta, June 19.—A night explosion today entombed 250 miners employed in Mine No. 20 of the Hillcrest Colliers Ltd. Of fifty rescued only fourteen were living tonight.

Despite the efforts of the two score mine experts laboring amid poisonous gases and debris, hope of rescuing alive the 200 men yet in the mine was waning.

At dusk tonight a silent group of white faced wives and mothers stood at the mouth of the mine, which had been closed by the explosion, still hopeful that the means for help that issued from the inner workings earlier in the day might be repeated.

As the night wore on however, many of the women turned sadly homeward, feeling that hope was lost.

The explosion about 9 o'clock this morning shook the country side for miles around lifted the roofs from miners cabins and destroyed numerous small buildings. A moment afterward a score of panic stricken surface workers rushed from the mine in a dense cloud of smoke and poisonous fumes. Appeals for help were despatched to nearby towns and residents organized an emergency rescue crew.

A large force of men set about clearing the shaft, turning desperately from one point to another as the means of the entombed men came feebly from the interior. The moans became fainter and fainter and finally ceased. Thousands of tons of rock have fallen into the mine. It was feared the men, even had they escaped death from fumes, probably were crushed by debris.

The cause of the explosion could not be determined but it was believed it was due to the forming of gases. Thomas Quigley, superintendent of the mine was among those entombed. Early today two trains filled with mine workers, doctors, nurses and officials of railways arrived and the work of rescue was begun in a systematic manner.

As the experts entered the mine they found, jammed in a chaotic mass, horses, timbers, wagons and mining paraphernalia.

Fire broke out soon after the explosion but almost immediately died out.

The explosion tore out both ends of the pit and instantly blocked up the interior of the workings, making it almost impossible to gain entrance. Most of the miners were working about 400 feet inside the mine. A majority of the men entombed are foreign born. There were 600 men in the mine at the time of the explosion. Of these 350 escaped unharmed. Of fifty rescued, 36 died last night.

Thomas Corke, an official of the miners' union was among those who lost their lives.

The British Columbia government mine rescue apparatus from Fernie station together with the Alberta province rescue car with one hundred trained men arrived at the mine tonight.

Several mine rescue experts said it would take at least a week to reach the bodies of some of those entombed.

The stricken mine is a mile from Frank, Alberta. Because of the danger in working the mine, it has, at times, been difficult to get men.

This is the third great disaster which has fallen to inhabitants of Crow's Nest Pass. Four years ago, 35 men were killed in the Bellevue mine and ten years ago Frank was destroyed by the neighboring mountain toppling over and burying 125 inhabitants.

Miners Have Narrow Escape.

Leig, Belgium, June 19.—Two hundred coal miners had a narrow escape from death in the Vieille Marihay colliery near here today when fire broke out and penned them inside. Four hundred men were in the pit at the time, but two hundred managed to get out. The entombed men remained in their perilous position for hours with the fire raging inside the mine but finally made their escape with the aid of rescue gangs.

CLAIM EMPRESS OF IRELAND WAS STEERED ERRATIC COURSE

Members of Collier Alden Testify Liner Was Zig-zagging in Her Course.

Quebec, June 19.—Jacob Saxe, third officer on the Collier Stordstad, testifying today before the dominion commission investigating the collision in the St. Lawrence river May 29th, which resulted in the wreck of the Empress of Ireland, said that at a moment before the crash while the Stordstad was under enough headway to keep her under control of her rudder, he saw the green lights of the Empress traveling at a fair rate of speed across the bows of the Collier. Officers of the Empress had testified that that vessel was virtually standing still at the time of the collision. In corroboration of the claims made by Saxe, steering officers of the Empress, who were "erratically" members of the crew of the Collier Alden which passed the Empress a few hours before the collision testified that the liner was zig-zagging in her course to such a degree that they were forced to turn the Alden aside to avert a crash.

Divers Recover Bodies.
Rimouski, Quebec, June 19.—Two bodies were recovered by divers today from the sunken wreck of the Empress of Ireland, the first to be taken from the ill-fated steamer.

The first recovered was that of a woman about forty years of age. She was supposed to have been a third class passenger. A postal card found on the body bore the name "Mrs. Mardell." Later the body of a man, evidently about 28 years of age, was brought to the surface. A money order from Lethbridge, Alberta, bearing the name Criswell, was found in the dead man's clothing. The divers, half a dozen in number will continue their quest tomorrow.

MAY POSTPONE ACTION ON PROPOSED NEW HAVEN BILL

Washington, June 19.—Reports from Boston that committees of the Massachusetts legislature contemplated postponing until January action on the proposed bill to enable the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad to dispose of its Boston & Maine holdings, were the subject of much comment today at the department of justice. Attorney General McReynolds declined to discuss the matter but the general opinion in official circles was that if the legislature adjourned next month without passing the bill the department would file promptly a suit to force dissolution of the New Haven from its subsidiaries.

Disposition of the Boston & Maine stock was the chief step in the dissolution plan agreed upon between the New Haven and the department by which the Great New England railroad system was to avoid prosecution under the anti-trust law.

The attorney general agreed to wait until July 15th for the transfer of the Boston & Maine stock and was willing that a reasonable time be granted to get the necessary enabling act through the Massachusetts legislature. It is said, however, that a delay until January scarcely would be considered reasonable by the department.

MEMBERSHIP COMPLETED

Springfield, Ills., June 19.—The membership of the Illinois State Board of Nurse Examiners was completed today with the appointment of Governor Dunne of Katherine A. Conway, 1120 North Leavitt street, Chicago, as member of the board.

FOR REORGANIZATION OF ROCK ISLAND LINES

STOCKHOLDER COMMITTEES REACH TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

Plan Contemplates Elimination of Both Holding Companies, a Return to Old Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Co., and Creation of Non-Cumulative Seven Per Cent Preferred Stock.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Committees representing the collateral trust bonds of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad company and the committees representing the stockholders of the Rock Island company today reached a tentative agreement for the re-organization of the Rock Island system.

The plan as announced tonight contemplates the elimination of both holding companies, a return to the Old Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railway company and the creation of non-cumulative seven per cent preferred stock of the railway company. This preferred stock is to be sold for cash with part of the existing common stock of the railway company.

Both bond holders and stockholders are protected under the plan. It is stated, and $30,000,000 new money will be obtained, this money being deemed necessary to finance the road for the next three years.

The limitations on the mortgage powers of the railroad prevented the creation of a new mortgage for the purpose of raising the $30,000,000 required to finance the road it is explained. The plan contemplates, therefore, the creation of non-cumulative seven per cent preferred stock of the railway company.

The trust indenture securing the collateral bonds now in default is to be foreclosed and the pledged common stock of the railway company purchased, according to the contemplated plan.

Out of this common stock, collateral trust bond holders are to retain at par 12 1/2 per cent of the face value of their bonds and the remainder of such common stock is to be offered for subscription with the new preferred stock. The bond holders thus retain 62 1/2 per cent of the stock deposited as collateral for their present bonds and part only with so much as is necessary to raise the funds required and to add value to the stock retained.

In addition the collateral trust bond holders are to have the privilege to subscribe to cash for an amount equal to 15 per cent of the face amount of their bonds receiving for such subscription 15 per cent of this face amount in preferred stock and 14 per cent in existing common stock of the railway company. The announcement of the plan continues: "The stockholders of the Rock Island company will be reorganized through rights of subscription on the following terms:

"To the holders of preferred stock paying 15 per cent par value of their stock in cash, 15 per cent of such par value in new preferred stock and 10 3/4 per cent of such par value in the existing common stock of the railway company.

"The collateral trust bond holders are also to have the preferential right to subscribe for and receive the preferred and common stock so offered for subscription to bond holders and stockholders and not taken by them, upon the average terms so offered to bond holders and stockholders provided such subscription right shall be limited so that the common stock thereby acquired, together with all other common stock acquired by such bondholders, under the plan, either through subscription or allotment shall not at par value exceed the face amount of his deposited bonds."

NEW YORK DEMOCRATIC LEADERS ADJOURN THEIR MEETING

Decide on No Method by Which Candidates May Be Suggested For Coming State Primaries.

New York, June 19.—The state conference of Democratic leaders adjourned today without planning any method by which candidates might be suggested for the coming state primaries. The conference which was attended by members of the state and executive committee and the country chairman formally expressed its opinion that no suggestion as to candidates should be made at this or any future conference by or held under the auspices of the state committee. The sense of the gathering was against any interference with the new primary law, which abolished the formal state convention. The result of the conference was a victory for Tammany Hall, which marshalled all its committee men in opposition to the proposal that the Democrats of the state call another conference which should recommend candidates for the primary election. On a division the anti-Tammany men were defeated by a rising vote of 76 to 20 (unofficial count).

EXCURSION BOAT REPORTED SUNK

Steamer Said to Have Struck Water Tower in Mississippi Near St. Louis with Several Hundred Passengers Aboard

BULLETIN.

ST. LOUIS, Saturday, June 20.—A report that an excursion steamer with several hundred passengers aboard struck the new water tower in course of construction in the center of the Mississippi river just north of here and sank a few minutes later, reached the police and harbor officials here this morning. Police officers and boats were sent up the river immediately to investigate.

The report originated with a watchman along the river front, who reported to the officials at the municipal plant that he had seen the accident. The identity of the boat is not known. The only passenger boat which left here today north-bound was the Dubuque, bound for Burlington, Ia. The Belle of Calhoun from Hamburg, Ill., which is due to arrive here today, passes the point at which the accident is said to have occurred. Both are large packets, carrying freight and passengers.

Carries Bell Operators.
The Eagle Packet company, after an hour's investigation, claimed the boat was their "Majestic," carrying several hundred girl operators of the Bell Telephone company, and which should have docked in St. Louis at midnight. Reports from Alton, Ill., also gave the name of the boat as the Majestic. Ambulances are being rushed to the scene along the Missouri and Illinois sides of the river.

Boat Soon Sank.
According to the watchman who first told the story, the boat sank soon after striking the tower. Newspapermen who reached the scene at 2:30 o'clock this morning declared they could discern a few people hanging from the rigging.

Carried No Passengers.
The owners of the line later declared the Majestic though an excursion boat carried no passengers to night.

REPRESENTATIVES OF ORGANIZED BASEBALL MEET IN NEW YORK

It Is Generally Believed That Something Radical Is Likely to Result From Conclave of Magnates.

New York, June 19.—Although representatives of organized baseball were here in numbers today, presumably to consider ways and means of offsetting Federal league opposition, there was little evidence of serious consideration of the question by the assembled magnates. Governor Tener of Pennsylvania, president of the National League, presided at a brief session of that major organization at which representatives of all the clubs were present, but so far as could be learned no action was taken. The meeting adjourned until tomorrow morning to see what, if anything, would be done at a meeting of the national commission set for tonight. No meeting of the commission was held, however. Governor Tener and President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati club were on hand at the appointed place, but Ben Johnson, president of the American League, the third member of the commission, was unaccountably absent.

That something radical was likely to result from the conclave of the magnates was a general belief. Leaders of men of organized baseball have declared only recently that the Federal league would not last through the present season, but the current of talk about the headquarters of the National American and International league representatives, here to take part in the supposed council of war, indicated that the magnates were in reality much worried about the inroads made by the new organization on the established leagues.

That out of war peace might be evolved was one persistent report. The peace plan contemplated, it was said, involved satisfying in one move the demands of the American association and International leagues which wish to be raised to the major league status by the abolishment of the draft and composing the opposition of the Federals by taking them into the ranks of organized baseball.

Secretary John A. Heydler of the American league would not admit tonight that any of these matters had been discussed during the meeting of the National league today and none of the others present during the session would talk of the subjects that were considered.

Huntington, W. Va., June 19.—Mrs. Martha Medley, aged 25, was crushed to death by the engine of a Chesapeake & Ohio passenger train near Ceredo, W. Va., tonight after she has thrown herself in the train's path and pushed her four year old daughter to safety. Three other children witnesses their mother's death.

INSANITY IN COOK COUNTY REPORTED INCREASING RAPIDLY

Immorality and Complexity of City Life, Moving Picture Craze and Baseball Causes of Insanity.

Chicago, Ill., June 19.—Insanity in Cook county is increasing more rapidly than the population, according to figures announced today by John E. Owens, judge of the county court, showing the annual number of insanity cases tried since 1907. Immorality and the increasing complexity of city life were said by Judge Owens to be the chief causes of insanity. The number of cases were: 1907, 1,724; 1908, 1,740; 1909, 1,972; 1910, 2,066; 1911, 2,167; 1912, 2,376; 1913, 2,470; 1914 to May 31st, 1,284.

The moving picture craze and baseball have played their parts in increasing the number of cases, according to Judge Owens.

Number Trebled in 40 Years.
New York, June 19.—Dr. A. J. Rasanoff of King's Park Hospital at the insane in a paper read today at the conference of the Eugenics research association at Columbia university asserted that the number of insane in the United States has nearly tripled in forty years.

The average 100,000 according to Dr. Rasanoff's figures, has increased from 86.5 to 232. The most fortunate state, the physician said was Oklahoma, in which only 67 per 100,000 of the total population are insane. Massachusetts, he asserted, is in the worst condition having 113.1 per 100,000 either insane or semi-insane.

CRITICISMS HOUSE BILL

Criticism of the house bill giving the interstate commerce commission supervisory powers over the lease of railroad securities was voiced today before the senate interstate commerce committee by Louis D. Brandeis of Boston. His views were not at all in accord with those expressed previously by members of the commission which to a large degree has approved the house bill.

The house bill would give the commission the power to approve security issues, but would not prohibit specifically any particular issue. Mr. Brandeis proposed to prohibit railroads engaging in any business other than that of carriers and forbid them to issue any securities at all except for the betterment of extension of the railroad property.

ST. LOUISAN IS UNSEATED

L. C. Dyer of St. Louis, Republican, representing the Twelfth Missouri district, was unseated by the house today by a vote of 147 to 98. His election was contested by Michael J. Gill, Democrat. By a vote of 126 to 108 a resolution declaring Gill legally elected was adopted. Mr. Gill immediately took the oath of office.

On the vote to declare Gill elected 31 Democrats voted with the solid Republican minority against him.

Under the usual custom Mr. Dyer keeps his salary up to date and gets not exceeding $2,000 for expenses of the contest on his side. This was Mr. Dyer's second term in congress.

LOUISVILLE PLAYER WEDS NEBRASKA GIRL

Kansas City, Mo., June 19.—Howard McLarry, second baseman of the Louisville American association baseball team and, Miss Villa Glassman of Lincoln, Neb., were married here today. The bride sat in the grandstand at this afternoon's game between Kansas City and Louisville and the Louisville victory was largely due to McLarry's hitting. With two home runs and a single, McLarry was responsible for four Louisville runs.

STATE'S ATTORNEY WILL BEGIN IMMEDIATE INVESTIGATION

Hoyle Will Determine If Criminal Charges Can Be Brought Against Officers of La Salle Street Bank.

Chicago, June 19.—Maclay Hoyle, state's attorney, announced tonight he would begin an immediate investigation of the affairs of the La Salle Street Trust and Savings bank to determine if criminal charges would be brought against its officers. The announcement followed a conference with Patrick J. Lucey, attorney general, and Daniel Harkin, bank examiner, at which an agreement was reached, Mr. Hoyle said, by which possible criminal prosecution was left in his hands.

The affairs of the bank are now in the hands of W. C. Niblack, vice president of the Chicago Title and Trust company, who was appointed receiver today. His bonds were fixed at $250,000 after D. L. Tarian, who filed suit as receiver for a depositor, had withdrawn his suit.

The state's attorney told that he had been drawn into the bank investigation by a complaint of criminality brought by a depositor.

"I know the situation in the matter now," he said after the conference, "and I don't see how it could be worse. The reason I have refused to talk before was that I feared to alarm depositors. If the bank had been solvent during the period since it was closed, a statement from me might have created a panic among its depositors."

"I have asked Mr. Harkin for a copy of his report to State Auditor Brady and will begin an investigation at once."

Inspection of the twenty-three surety companies doing business in Illinois was begun today by the state insurance department. This action grew out of the payment to the city of only $460,000 by surety companies who guaranteed money deposits of $1,070,000 in the Lorimer-Munday banks.

City Comptroller Traeger asserted he would start suit Monday against all companies which had not met the demands of the city.

RAILROAD WANTS DAMAGES FOR INJURY DONE ENGINE

NEWARK, N. J., June 19.—As the result of a recent collision at Bloomfield, N. J., between a team driven by F. V. Wilkinson of this city, and an Erie railroad locomotive the road today sued Wilkinson for $100 damages because "drivers' slats" of the cow-catcher of the engine were broken, the paint on the locomotive was bruised and the track "strewn with litter."

This unusual suit is an answer and counterclaim to an action for $25,000 damages brought against the railroad by Wilkinson, who claims the accident was not his fault and that he suffered a broken hip, three fractured ribs and other injuries. The road asserts that the collision was due to Wilkinson's negligence.

U. S. PEACE DELEGATE ISSUES ULTIMATUM

WILL INSIST ON ACCEPTANCE OF PLAN FOR PACIFICATION

Unless Huerta Delegates Yield to U. S. Demand Mediation Conference Will End Today or Monday—Mediators Hold No Formal Session.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., June 19. Justice Lamara's memorandum to Emilio Rabasa, head of the Mexican delegation announcing the United States must "insist" on the acceptance of its plan for the pacification of Mexico is an ultimatum. Unless the Huerta delegates yield, mediation will end tomorrow or Monday. This is the firm determination of the United States as it was conveyed to the mediators today. Ambassador daGama of Brazil and Minister Suarez of Chile asked the American delegates if their position had changed in view of the Carranza-Villa split and the reply was in the negative.

It was an informal talk but served to advise the mediators that the published statements of the American and Huerta delegates with their opposite views on the type of man to be selected for provisional president defined clearly the unalterable attitude of the American government.

Just what the policy of the United States would be in the event of the failure of mediation or what disposition it would make of the American troops at Vera Cruz is unknown even to the American delegates. The Huerta commissioners say they do not know what course of action General Huerta may pursue.

The mediator held no formal session today because Minister Naon of Argentina stopped in Washington instead of returning directly from the universities where he had been receiving honorary degrees.

Minister Naon is expected back early tomorrow.

STILL HOPE FOR PEACE

Washington, June 19.—Hope that the wavering mediation programme still might bring peace to Mexico was expressed here late tonight by Argentine Minister Naon as he took the train for Niagara Falls after a series of conferences with President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Louis Cabrera of the Washington agency of the constitutionalists.

Minister Naon came to Washington unexpectedly today from New Haven and Cambridge where he had been attending the Yale and Harvard commencement exercises. He lunched with Secretary Bryan and later went to the state department for a long conference with the secretary. It was not denied that the diplomat had come for a final word with the highest officials of the administration concerning the deadlock between the Mexican and American delegates at the mediation conference.

BOSTON POLICE INSPECTOR SHOT IN MAKING ARREST

Thomas F. Norton Fatally Wounded By Lawrence Robinson, Wounded on Charges of Murder and Robbery.

Boston, June 19.—Police Inspector Thomas F. Norton was shot fatally today in a revolver fight resulting from an attempt to arrest Lawrence Robinson, wanted in Grand Rapids, Michigan on charges of murder and robbery. Robinson was taken to a hospital suffering from three bullet wounds. He probably will recover. His companion, Joseph P. Daniels, was locked up on a charge of first degree murder. The inspector died soon after reaching a hospital.

The shooting took place in a crowded basement restaurant in the business section. Private detectives who had trailed Robinson enlisted the aid of Norton. Entering the cafe they found Robinson sitting at a table with Daniels.

When the police inspector placed his hand on Robinson's arm he was answered by an instant display of revolvers. Norton fell, shot through the abdomen. Robinson darted for the street. Three shots from the officers' weapons struck him. Although severely wounded he emptied his revolver in the direction of the detectives before he was overpowered.

Meanwhile detectives had arrested Daniels. Throughout the shooting, while the search for shelter behind overturned chairs and tables, a young woman pianist made a brave effort to play a popular air.

IS MAKING GOOD RECORD AT OKLAHOMA DEAF SCHOOL

Frank Read Succeeding as Superintendent of Institution at Sulphur—Press Makes Complimentary Notice.

The Daily Oklahoman in a recent issue contains an illustrated article concerning the State School for the Deaf at Sulphur, Oklahoma of which Mr. Frank Read formerly of this city is the superintendent. The article is under the heading "Deaf Mutes of State Making Marvelous Progress; More Equipment Now Demanded." A few paragraphs from the article are quoted and indicate clearly that Mr. Read is making an excellent record as the head of the school.

"The Oklahoma School for the Deaf, which closed its year's work this week, is the only school for children of this class in the state. It is located in the eastern part of the city of Sulphur, half way between the Frisco and Santa Fe railroads. The school was established in 1897 with temporary quarters in Guthrie; but was removed to this city six years ago and placed in rented buildings, entirely inadequate, but costing the state $3,747.50 annually.

"Its growth has been phenomenal, both in the numbers accommodated and in the character of the work done. It is estimated that there are 1,500 deaf people in the state, of whom 350 are of scholastic age, and 236 of these, including five fullblood Indians, have been enrolled in the school this term. Nearly every county in the state is represented and still applications are coming daily for admittance. A. A. Stewart, former superintendent, and Prof. Frank Read Jr., present head of the school and their corps of efficient teachers, have wrought miracles in the lives of the boys and girls placed under their care in spite of the limitations unavoidable in their present situation.

Great Possibilities.

"A visit to the school will convince the most sceptical of the latent possibilities in these children deprived of their hearing; and of the marvelous progress made by them even under trying conditions of crowded classrooms and comparatively few modern helps in school work. These children receive a good common school education with a few high-school studies. In addition to this, every boy and girl receives training in some useful handicraft. Printing, shoemaking, harness making, carpentry, cabinet making and chair caning are some of the trades taught the boys and the girls receive instruction in sewing, ironing, practical cooking and other household duties. The aim of the industrial department is to fit the deaf boys and girls who leave the school for useful occupations and so insure financial independence. The wisdom of this course has been shown over and over again in the splendid citizens the school has turned out. Most of them are already earning their own living and others are seeking more thorough educational preparation.

The Remarkable Change.

"When one takes into consideration the fact that practically all of these children enter school ignorant of their own names and unable to communicate with those around them except by the most primitive and restricted sign language, the transition within a few years to intelligent and well balanced young men and women, of education and culture, capable of economic independence, in many instances speaking in a remarkably natural way and reading the lips rapidly, thus being able to carry on ordinary conversation, the change is considered all the more remarkable.

"Twenty-five teachers are employed; nineteen teachers and six industrial instructors. The school is divided into three sections and the time into three periods of a little over two hours each. Two of these periods are devoted to literary work and one to industrial training. The work of educating the deaf is decidedly unique, the problem being the fact that the deaf child has passed the period of unconscious education of the hearing child before his training begins.

Paper Issued by Pupils.

"The Deaf Oklahoman" is issued regularly by the members of this class and for neatness and absence of typographical errors it would do credit to much larger papers.

"Frank Read Jr., for twenty-five years connected with the Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville, has been superintendent of the Oklahoma school for one term. Himself the son of deaf parents, he has a peculiar sympathy and understanding of the deaf to whom he is giving the service of a life.

"Under course of construction by the Manhattan company, to be completed in time for the next term of school, is one of the most modern and well equipped schools in the state. The building consists of a school house with twenty-four classrooms, auditorium and shop rooms. Two cottages are being erected, to be used for dormitory purposes, and a power house, all of brick, of fire proof construction throughout. These are located on a fourteen-acre tract of land in the eastern part of the city overlooking a beautiful stretch of Platt National park where the children are fond of walking and playing, their excellent health showing the value of outdoor activity. Though there will be room for a greater number of children than in the present quarters, the ones who are received will have much better equipment for doing first class work and the plans of the buildings permit of enlargement as the state appropriates additional funds.

FIRE IN HAY SHOCK.

A smoldering fire in a hay shock at the rear of the residence of Miss Mayme Heffernan, 402 Hardin avenue, called out the department at 4:40 Friday afternoon. The firemen carried water in buckets and put out the blaze. Sparks from passing trains are assigned as the cause of the fire.

NEW BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY.

A year's subscription to a very attractive magazine, American Forestry, has been given to the Public Library by the Fortnightly club. The magazine is well illustrated by photographs. In the June number is an epitome of national reclamation work, a survey on street tree planting in various places, an article on conservation for lumbermen, on chestnut blight and white pine blister rust. A splendid list on late books and periodicals indexed in the Library of the U. S. Forest Service, is given in each number.

Vacation pamphlets, illustrated folders and booklets may be obtained at the library.

Reference Books.

Nearing—Wages in the U. S., 1906-1910. The conclusions arrived at are that half of the adult males in the U. S. are earning less than $500 a year and that nine-tenths are receiving less than $800 while a fifth of the women laborers earn less than $200 annually and only one-twentieth are paid more than $600 a year.

Two Interesting Government Publications.

Langley—Mémorial on mechanical flight. The newspapers and magazines recounted last week that the tandem aeroplane which Samuel Pierpont Langley invented and constructed, but never really succeeded in putting into actual flight, has at last been made to fly by Glenn H. Curtiss. The successful experiment by Mr. Curtiss is memorable because it affords a popular indication of Professor Langley's work. The memoir received at the library is a monumental report. It contains over a hundred very fine plates.

Recent Fiction.

Bloem—The iron year. Created an extraordinary sensation in Germany and so great was the demand that twenty editions were exhausted. This was the novel that the German Emperor read aloud to the members of the royal family during the spring.

STATE BOARD TELLS VALUE OF ANTI-TOXIN SERUM

Has Taken Away Terrors of Diphtheria to a Large Degree—Death Rate From Disease Has Materially Declined Since Its Discovery.

The Illinois State Board of Health in a circular on the prevention, restriction and suppression of diphtheria, presents a summary which is of greatest interest and value. Local physicians have asked that the summary be given publicity and it is as follows:

Final Word to Physicians.

Use antitoxin freely.
Antitoxin cures diphtheria.
Antitoxin will prevent diphtheria.
Have but very little fear of antitoxin.

Have one very wholesome fear of diphtheria.

Diphtheria now has an exceedingly low death rate.

Diphtheria formerly had an exceedingly high death rate.

The change is due entirely to the influence of antitoxin.

Antitoxin will never fail to cure diphtheria if it is used early.

The death rate from diphtheria has been steadily declining ever since the discovery of antitoxin.

One has only to compare the death rate before the use of antitoxin with the death rate under its use, to receive incontestable evidence of the benefits that result from its use.

For a medical man to oppose the employment of antitoxin, comes seriously near to willful negligence. The time is close at hand when the failure to use antitoxin will impose criminal, as well as civil, responsibility.

The unwarranted antagonism to antitoxin that has had such widespread publication in the so-called health journals, has created false fears in the minds of the laity. The physicians should allay these fears, and thus assist in saving the lives of helpless children who, otherwise, may perish.

Antitoxin rarely produces any untoward effects in diphtheria. Any such effects following its employment are but temporary in nature. With the new, purified, refined, and concentrated globulin solution furnished by the Illinois State Board of Health, much, if not nearly all, of the after effects of antitoxin, such as rashes, etc., will be avoided.

Physicians should bear in mind that paralysis is one of the characteristic symptoms of diphtheria, sometimes rendering the patient completely helpless. Paralysis is very frequently attributed to antitoxin. But antitoxin never causes paralysis. On the contrary, antitoxin tends to prevent paralysis. Physicians should see that these well-recognized truths are duly impressed on the people.

Just What She Needed.

There is an old saying that "There is a remedy for every ill." It is sometimes years before you find the remedy exactly suited to your case. Mrs. Rachel Cribley, Beaver Dam, Ohio, was sick for two years with stomach trouble and constipation. She writes, "My neighbors spoke so enthusiastically of Chamberlain's Tablets that I procured a bottle of them. A few days' treatment convinced me that they were just what I needed. I continued to use them for several weeks and they cured me." For sale by all dealers.—adv.

GREAT INTEREST IN FRANCHISE CONFERENCE FIXED FOR MONDAY

City and Company Officials May Make Some Concessions and Reach Agreement—Citizens Plan to Take Matter Before Commission.

Franchise matters may take an interesting turn soon in the event of the failure of the city council and public utility officials to come to an agreement at the conference Monday. The utility franchises have for a long time been matters of public concern and popular interest in the question was heightened by the conference Wednesday in Springfield between the Jacksonville commissioners and city attorney and officials of the Illinois Traction System. Although little was accomplished at this meeting, several new points of disagreement were revealed and arrangements were made for another joint meeting of the city and company officials Monday morning.

It was a matter of surprise to the commissioners that Mr. Chubbuck, objected to many provisions of the franchises aside from price. It was thought that the rates only were in dispute. That mooted points of the franchises, may be the cause of prolonged discussion, however is very unlikely. At such length has discussion been carried on that company and city should be able in short order to agree or disagree, think the councilmen. Should Mr. Chubbuck and his associates maintain without compromise their position of Wednesday and should the city council deem it undesirable to make concessions to the company, private citizens will seek a solution by going before the utility commission.

Individual citizens have wished to carry the case before the commission but have delayed in the hope that the question might be settled by the city's officials. Should present negotiations fail, the field will be open for private initiative, nor would such action be displeasing to the city council. In fact the council has been informed of such intended action.

For the city officials to take the matter to the commission would be a de facto recognition of the existence of franchises, in the opinion of many, and for this reason there is objection to proceedings instituted by the council as an official body. Action by private citizens would be free from such possible complications.

It is possible too that the company may offer no objection to the plan of citizens asking for action on the part of the utility commission as they have maintained all along that they would be willing to submit the question to the commission. The principal objection to the franchises the company has urged has been that the acceptance of the rates proposed might bind them to sell at such rates and at the same time bar them from an appeal to the commission.

FRED H. MOHR SAVED CHILD'S LIFE BY ACT OF BRAVERY

Former Jacksonville Man Dashed in Front of Oncoming Train to Rescue Little Girl From Death.

F. A. Mohr of Milwaukee, formerly of this city, proved himself a hero one day recently in Missoula, Mont. when at the risk of his own life he saved a child of seven years from death beneath the wheels of a fast moving train. According to the newspaper dispatches, Mr. Mohr's act was one which showed splendid bravery and rare presence of mind, for a misstep would have meant death for him and the little girl whose life was in peril.

Mr. Mohr is now Western Union manager at Milwaukee and he is remembered by a great many people here as manager of the local Western Union office. When he left Jacksonville for larger fields he took with him as his bride Miss Grace Cassell. They have been in Milwaukee for a number of years. The fact that Mr. Mohr is large of stature, weighing more than 250 pounds, gives added significance to his courage and quickness. He was in Missoula as a member of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association, the organization having sent a delegation on a western trip. A dispatch from Missoula, as follows, told of the incident:

"A thrilling incident of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' trade excursion occurred here tonight when F. A. Mohr, Milwaukee manager of the Western Union, held a score of spectators breathless as he risked his life to save a child from death. 'The special had just pulled into Missoula and the Milwaukeeans were boarding autos when Mohr, who was standing near the rear car, saw a train approaching on the next track.

"Children who were seeking souvenirs crowded the trackway, and all save a 7-year-old girl scurried from danger. Mohr crossed the track, picked the child up and jumped to safety just as the train thundered by. Had he made a misstep both would have been killed. 'The M. & M. train arrived in Missoula on schedule time, 7:45. Following a motor tour of the city, and surrounding country, a reception was given the visitors by the Missoula Chamber of Commerce.

"President Sidney J. Coffee of the chamber welcomed the boosters and Mayor Bading, F. W. Rogers and William George Bruce responded. At 11:45 o'clock last night the special left for Spokane."

A marriage license was issued in Springfield Thursday to John Albers, aged 26 of Naples and Miss Frieda Shober, aged 27 of St. John's Mich.

SULLIVAN WRITES TO FRIENDS.
A number of local friends of Roger Sullivan, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator, have received letters from him in which he thanked the men for the warm welcome extended him on the occasion of his recent visit to this city. He also stated that he is being received with the same hospitality in all parts of the state and expresses confidence in a successful ending of his campaign.

Why Suffer From Rheumatism?
When relief from rheumatic pains may be had at so small a cost it is surprising that anyone should fail to avail himself of it. Joseph Capparelli, Canastota, N. Y., suffered intensely with pains due to rheumatism in his limbs for a long time. A friend told him about Chamberlain's Liniment. One application relieved him wonderfully, and a few days' treatment effected a cure. Many others have found quick relief by applying this liniment. For sale by all druggists.—adv.

PILGRIMAGE TO MARK WASHINGTON'S MARCH

SPECIAL PILGRIMAGE WILL BE MADE FROM PHILADELPHIA TO CAMBRIDGE.

General Washington Covered the Route in 1775 to Take Command of the American Army in Nine Days.—Journey Under Auspices of Sons of the American Revolution Will Be Made in Automobiles.

New York, June 19.—The route which Washington covered in his journey from Philadelphia to Cambridge in 1775 to take command of the American army will be marked by a special pilgrimage under the auspices of the National Society of the Sons of the American Revolution, starting from Philadelphia next week.

"The clattering cavalcade," which escorted General Washington to Cambridge, and which Irving has said "was the gaze and wonder of every town and village," took nine days to make in a hurry, a journey which could easily be accomplished by rail today between breakfast and dinner, but the proposed pilgrimage will be a leisurely one by automobile, starting as Washington did on June 23 and concluding with ceremonies at Cambridge on July 3—the day Washington took formal command of the army.

It is expected that more than a hundred participants will make the ten day journey all the way from Philadelphia to Cambridge, and that over local stretches the party will be augmented by several hundred.

It is proposed to make special visits to historic spots of revolutionary days, and here and there to place a new tablet, or dedicate some other memorial to Washington.

The idea was presented by the George Washington chapter of Springfield, Mass., at the congress of the national society in Chicago in May last year and it was resolved that it be carried out, with Henry F. Punderson of Springfield as chief marshal of the pilgrimage. A committee of members from Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, Connecticut and Massachusetts was appointed to co-operate.

Washington's departure for New England was taken just a week after the continental congress at Philadelphia had by unanimous vote on June 16, 1775, made choice of him to be commander-in-chief of "the forces raised and to be raised in defense of American liberty." The first skirmishes at Lexington and Concord in April, had been answered throughout New England by the despatch of large volunteer forces to Cambridge. A motley garbed and poorly equipped but enthusiastic and patriotic army of 20,000 men had assembled for the siege of Boston.

Washington's commission was signed the very day that the battle of Bunker Hill was fought. The proposal that he should be allowed $500 a month for his pay and traveling expenses was adopted by the congress, but he contended that he desired no pay. He would keep an account of his expenses and these only should be met by congress.

On the night of June 22, the hurried arrangements for Washington's departure had been completed and a farewell dinner was given in his honor at Philadelphia. In commemoration of this event the Sons of the Revolution will hold a banquet at Philadelphia on the night of June 22, and start, as Washington did, the next morning for New York.

The Philadelphia Troop of Light Horse, whose standard was the first flag on which thirteen stripes appeared, emblematic of the thirteen colonies, acted as Washington's escort. The first night's stop is believed to have been at Trenton, where the automobile pilgrimage will also stop. The dedication of historic tablets will be part of the exercises here, as it will be at practically every place where the party stops.

By way of New Brunswick, and other New Jersey points the party will move on to New York, timing their arrival to fit that of Washington at four o'clock on the afternoon of June 25.

The tablet will be placed at the site of Col. Anthony Lisenard's residence, where Washington landed after crossing the Hudson from Hoboken. This is in the vicinity of the present Canal street, in what is now part of the down town section of New York, but which was then outside of the settled portion of the city.

The New York provincial congress presented Washington with a very complimentary address, to which he replied.

The reading of these documents will be part of the celebration which the Sons of the Revolution will conduct at the sub-treasury on Wall street, which was the site of the meeting place of the provincial congress, on Friday, June 26, next. A feature will also be an address by former President General C. A. Pugsley. A banquet will be held in New York that evening, to be addressed by the present president general, Rogers Clark Ballard Thurston, of Louisville, Ky.

Washington moved on toward Boston on June 26, as the pilgrimage will do, presumably over the old post road, halting for the night at Kingsbridge, and continuing next day to Fairfield. The Washington party arrived in New Haven on June 28, and reviewed a militia company of Yale students on the Green. Washington lodged that night "at the house of the late Isaac Beers," corner of Chapel and College streets, at the site of which, now occupied by a hotel, the present pilgrims will dedicate a memorial tablet.

The present party will proceed on Monday, the 29th to Withersfield, visiting the home of Silas Deane, where Washington was entertained, and halt for the night at Hartford. At Springfield the next day a tablet

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

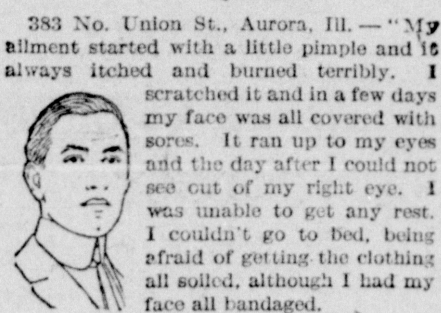

Eldon, Mo.—"I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ITCHED AND BURNED TERRIBLY

Face All Covered With Eruption. Unable to Get Rest. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Cured.

383 No. Union St., Aurora, Ill.—"My ailment started with a little pimple and it always itched and burned terribly. I scratched it and in a few days my face was all covered with sores. It ran up to my eyes and the day after I could not see out of my right eye. I was unable to get any rest. I couldn't go to bed, being afraid of getting the clothing all soiled, although I had my face all bandaged.

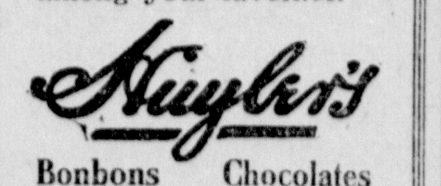

"I was given two jars of Cuticura but it kept getting worse. It was something like a running sore because every time I used some of the salve I had to wrap bandages around my neck to keep the water and pus from running down my body. After I had the trouble two months my mother told me I should try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I wrote for a sample and in a few days I received these and washed my face with the Cuticura Soap and put on some Cuticura Ointment and the next morning my face felt cool and somewhat relieved. After using the sample I bought some Cuticura Soap and Ointment at the drug store. I followed this treatment just twenty-six days and after using one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was cured." (Signed) George Miller, Jan. 1, 1913.

Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold everywhere. A single set is often sufficient when all else fails. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

MINTO OBSEQUIES WILL BE AT SHELBYVILLE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Services for the Beloved Railroad Man Arranged by the Masonic Fraternity and the O. R. C.

This evening the remains of the late Robert (Bob) Minto will be removed from Springfield, Mo., and sent to Shelbyville, this state and tomorrow afternoon, after Masonic rites, they will be laid to rest in the old family plot in the city cemetery.

Bob Minto was a slave to his chosen calling, a conductor on steam railroads, and like his two brothers, John and Thomas, he fell a victim of the cruel wheels, when a few days ago his train on the Frisco was in a wreck near Springfield, Mo. At that time he was badly crushed and endured untold suffering for forty-eight hours until the angel of death visited his cot in a hospital.

Bob Minto was well known among railroad men of bygone days in Jacksonville as one of the cleanest men who ever hoisted the signal. He was beloved by passengers who were favored by a trip on one of his runs; his cheery smile and word of good cheer always were elixirs for the traveling public so often search for on its outings behind the great iron horses. At Winchester and in Scott county Bob was especially well known, a great many of his relatives at that time occupying prominent places in society and in church work at Winchester. His father, who, with his wife and son survive him, formerly conducted services there as a minister of the gospel.

Bob Minto was born in England 63 years ago and was brought to this country by his parents about four years afterwards. The family settled at Alton, where the elder Minto was installed pastor of one of the churches, remaining there for several years before going into Scott county and afterwards to Shelbyville. At the age of 18 Bob went to Beardstown and entered the employ of the B. & O. as a freight brakeman. He shortly was advanced to conductor and remained with that road twenty years, going from Beardstown to Springfield, Mo., where he became a conductor on the Frisco system. At the time of his death he had rounded out a quarter of a century and had earned the cleanest record of any employee on the road—he had never been laid off or suspended.

Robert Minto was a cousin of the Benson Bros., Joe and Harry of this city and of William Benson of Beardstown. The latter will attend the funeral, as will a big delegation of Masons and O. R. C. from Beardstown. Peace to your ashes, Bob.

The governing body of the association will hold its meeting Monday. The general sessions will begin the following day and continue through the remainder of the week.

The Way It Goes

By WALT MASON.

Most all of the big men in the land came up from small beginnings; in youth they toiled to beat the band and wisely used their winnings. But, having won the victor's crown, their senses seem to wander; they keep on salting dollars down for idle heirs to squander. The self-made man too often cries, "My Algernon, dear laddie, won't have to bust his hooks and eyes, and labor like his daddy." So Algy loafs upon the earth, expensive, gallivanting, and when grown up he isn't worth three whoops in Ypsilanti. He leads a life of gilded ease, all foolish fads pursuing, and yet the blind old daddy sees no harm in what he's doing. Far better for poor Algernon if he had harsher masters, who'd make him rise an hour of dawn and earn his own Piastres. A life of idleness and sloth is scorned by men who've sweated, and few will ever cut a swath who pampered and petted. When'er I hear of gilded youth receiving unearned riches, I say, "The lucky lad, forsooth, is he who's digging ditches."

RAILROAD NOTES.

F. W. Fanning, clerk in the Washburn freight office, is still out owing to poor health.

A force of Western Union Telegraph men is at work near the Chicago & Alton station erecting new poles which they are smoothing and painting white.

Copp & Frank recently shipped over the Burlington for the Hawaiian Islands a bill of their store fixtures.

In front of the Burlington passenger station workmen are putting in a new platform preparatory to connecting the double tracks soon to be in place for use.

Roadmaster Lamb of the Burlington was in the city yesterday looking over the recent improvements.

Roadmaster Dicket of the C. P. & St. L. road was in the city yesterday to look over the double tracking and other work and confer with roadmaster Lamb of the Burlington.

The Burlington pay car No. 71, passed through the city Thursday distributing shekels among the men.

Baggage man F. O. Roach of the C. P. & St. L. road has returned from Peoria where he went to attend the wedding of his brother.

At the Car Shops.

Lots of tenders are now in the round house which presents a full and busy appearance.

Switch engine No. 5 was sent out yesterday to East St. Louis for duty at the south end.

Freight engine No. 50 went out yesterday to work.

Engine 54 will soon be ready to go out.

The caboose for the branch local freight has gone out of the coach shop in fine shape.

Engine 51 is in for minor repairs. Coach 11 has been sent in for a general overhauling.

Caboose 42 and 45 have been sent in for a general fixing up all round.

C. S. Branch, superintendent of mechanical department, spent Thursday at the shops.

Cleveland Runkle, wheel fitter, has resigned to go to Mt. Vernon to work in the shops there.

In the blacksmith shop they are busy making appliances to conform to the safety appliance law and just now they are at hand brake shafts of the passenger coaches. The law forbids a weld and the task of preparing them is a big one. They must have a part green diameter than the rest, square at one end for the wheel and fixed at the other end for the place in the car and all in all there is a lot of work to conform to the legal requirements.

John Jenkins, machinist, has resigned to go to Decatur.

Lawrence Brown has been employed as machinist helper.

George Jones has been employed as laborer in the machine shop.

Sanders Baptist of the store room has resigned to go to the fields of Kansas to harvest wheat.

John Jenkins of the machine shops has resigned his position.

General Manager Hurst has set on foot a safety first society all over the system and it promises to yield good results. C. S. Branch, superintendent of motive power, is general chairman and there are sub-committees at each station. At this place Geo. W. Imgrund is chairman and A. E. Peterson secretary. Members are M. Mahoney, John Clancy, James Tobin, William Sauer, Thomas Hennessy, Moses Topping, John Buckley, James Miller and Lou Magill. They meet weekly and discuss all matters pertaining to the object of the organization and note everything tending to danger no matter how trivial and reports are made to Mr. Branch at suitable intervals. The signs mentioned in the Journal have been generally sent around and placed in conspicuous positions and already good results are apparent. Each man is to be on the lookout for anything at all that should be reported and if an employee is doing anything hazardous he is warned or stopped. There is to be no box placed where the men may place slips containing information and suggestions. It is really remarkable to see how many little things may be reported.

RETIRED OF KEARSARGE SURVIVORS.

Boston, June 19.—Fifty years ago today the United States ship Kearsarge met the confederate cruiser Alabama off Cherbourg, France, and after one of the most desperate naval battles of the civil war succeeded in sinking her. The Alabama, in command of the gallant Captain Semmes, was the most feared vessel flying the confederate flag and during her brief career she had almost succeeded in driving American ships and commerce off the north Atlantic. The fact that she was an English-built vessel led to an historic controversy between the governments of the United States and Great Britain. Many years following the close of the war the "Alabama claims" case, as it was known, was submitted to arbitration and settled by the payment of a heavy indemnity by the British government.

The United States ship Kearsarge was built in the navy yard at Portsmouth, N. J., and nearly all the members of her crew were New England seamen. A number of the survivors still reside in this vicinity and today they got together at the American house in this city to renew acquaintance and to swap stories of the famous naval battle of half century ago.

Grave Decorated.

Paris, June 19.—On the 50th anniversary of the battle between the United States ship Kearsarge and the confederate steamer Alabama, a committee representing the American colony in Paris went to Cherbourg today and decorated the graves of the several American sailors buried there after the memorable engagement on June 19, 1864. The graves were only recently located and identified as a result of an exhaustive search conducted by Hans Cleveland Cox, the American deputy consul general in this city.

Peoria, Ill., June 19.—Singles by Beatty, H. Daringer and Jimmy Johnson coming in a bunch at the start of the local half of the eleventh gave Peoria today's game over Danville 4 to 3. Walsh pitched great ball up to the final inning, but his support wavered in the pinches.

THEN and NOW

Sixty-eight years ago the first match game of baseball on record was played. The game was between the Knickerbocker and New York baseball clubs in the Elysian Fields at Hoboken, N. J. The players were members of leading New York families, and engaged in the sport as a pastime. A bevy of town belles in the group of spectators made the occasion seem like a social function. The field was marked off into the baseball diamond so familiar today. None of the players wore gloves, masks or protectors. It was the custom for the batter to say where he wanted the ball thrown. The pitcher, or "giver," as he was then called, delivered it with an underhand toss, according to the rules of the game. It was thought that the pitcher had an unfair advantage over the batter when he threw the ball overhand, hence the rule. The catcher stood at a safe distance behind the batter, ready to catch the ball on the bound. The rules dictated that if he caught the third strike on the first bound the batter was out; otherwise he must throw to first base to put him out. Likewise, the fielders, or "scouts," were permitted to catch hits on the first bound. Three outs retired the side. The team that first scored 21 runs, or "aces," regardless of the number of innings played, was accounted the winner. After the game the players resorted to one of the famous taverns of the day where the victors had a dinner at the expense of the vanquished.

Today baseball holds the nation in its grip. Presidents, statesmen, millionaires and bankers forsake their desks to attend the games. Over 30,000,000 fans pay more than $10,000,000 every season to watch the 5,000 professional ball players making up the more than 50 major and minor leagues in the United States. These athletes combined earn salaries amounting to more than $6,000,000 a season—some star players are said to receive more than $15,000 for six months' work. The outcome of games is awaited throughout the country with deeper interest than many of the grave problems that confront the government. There is hardly a school, a university or a social club in the country that is not represented at least once on the baseball diamond during the year. There are many baseball nines made up of girls and women who can play nearly as well as their brother players in many minor leagues. Baseball is not only the national game today; it is rapidly becoming international. Wherever the United States flag flies, in the Philippines, Hawaii, Porto Rico or Alaska, there are rabid baseball fans and professional players. In the shade of Japan's famous cherry trees, native university students are "living 'em out." Coincident with the adoption of the principles of a republic, the Chinese also adopted the American game of baseball. And now comes the news that the French Athletic association has decided to adopt baseball as a national sport. In fact, the sun never sets on baseball's kingdom.

Experienced Women Advise Mother's Friend

Because it is so perfectly safe to use and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, these women, experienced in this most happy period, advise the use of "Mother's Friend."

Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relieve the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle, soothing embrocation, "Mother's Friend," is designed to so lubricate the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous nagging upon this myriad of nerves. It is a reflex action.

Applied to the breasts it affords the proper massage to prevent caking.

Thousands of women have reason to believe in this splendid help under the trying ordeal of motherhood. Their letters are eloquent evidence of its great value to women. In use for many years it has come to be a standard remedy for the purpose.

There is scarcely a well-stocked drug store anywhere but what you can easily obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" and in nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to try this splendid assistant to ease, comfort and safety.

"Mother's Friend" is prepared by Bradford Regulator Co., 510 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send for our little book. It should be remembered that what is said of "Mother's Friend" is the thought expressed by the thousands of women who have successfully used it and recommended it through two generations.

CLARK AND LONERGAN GET TRYOUT BY CHICAGO WHITE SOX

Jacksonville and Franklin Backstops Ordered to Report by Old Roman.

Two weeks ago the sporting columns of the Journal called attention to the grand article of baseball being delivered by Clark of the Eagles of this city and by Big Jim Loneragan of the Franklin team. The writer followed up the two paragraphs with a letter to Manager Jimmie Callahan; a correspondence of two more letters followed. Friday the following letter was received from Charles A. Comiskey and is self explanatory:

Chicago, June 18, 1914.
Mr. J. B. Merrigan,
care Jacksonville Journal,
Jacksonville, Illinois:

My Dear Sir:
I am in receipt of your letter of June 16th, and I assure you I was delighted to hear from you.

Regarding players Clark and Loneragan, wish to assure you I will be delighted to give them a thorough tryout if they can come up to Chicago at once. The White Sox will be here for the next ten days, and during that time they would have ample opportunity to be given a good workout.

With kindest personal regard, and awaiting your reply, I remain,
Yours very truly,
Chas. A. Comiskey.

Clark has arranged to leave here on the Alton Hummer early Monday morning, and will get into Chicago in plenty of time for the morning workout. Jim Loneragan left this morning and will get into a Sox uniform today. There is no doubt that under the careful watching of Callahan, Gleason, Walsh and Billy Sullivan these young men will make good. And when they do make good they will never regret the day they signed a contract with Charley Comiskey.

Buck Simms may also accompany the two backstops, and if he does the writer will take pleasure in recommending him to the Old Roman. Buck, too, can make good. A little confidence and he can land right in the lap of Scott, Benz, Faber, et al.

F. A. Richards of Centralia was transacting business in the city yesterday.

BLUES WIN VARSITY FOUR-MILE EIGHT OARED RACE BY FOUR INCHES.

New London, Conn., June 19.—By a margin of four inches, Yale won the varsity four-mile eight oared race on the Thames river here late this afternoon after the hardest race ever rowed by the two universities. The race was so close that when the final line few of the thousands knew whether victory had perched upon the bow of the Yale or the Harvard racing craft.

On board the judges' boat could be seen the arbitrators frantically gesticulating in conference while first a blue flag and then a Crimson one was waved. Finally the Harvard colors sank slowly as the judges

DEBENTURE BONDS ARE ACTIVE

New York, June 19.—Except for the Rock Island securities which were unusually active and covered a wide range the stock market today was quiet and flat. The under-tone was firm and there was a light upward tendency. Speculators were as reluctant as before to take a decided position pending the much discussed decision in the freight rates case.

Early in the day it was reported that the Rock Island re-organization plan would be announced shortly and heavy trading in the securities of the company relieved the dullness during the early hours. The bonds with the exception of the collaterals, were bid up strongly in the belief that their position would be improved by payment of an assessment on the stock. The debenture bonds were most active. They rose 7 1/2, a gain of 7 points in two days.
The collateral 4's dropped 2 1/2 to 30, the lowest price on record. Weakening of the latter was due to expectation of an assessment against the stock of the parent company, the security for the bonds was still cheerful and American stocks were advanced in London. Arbitrage brokers here took perhaps 5,000 shares for foreign account.

BUTTER EXHIBIT SHOWS QUALITY

AVERAGE SCORE OF TWENTY ENTRIES ABOVE 93.

Good Butter Can Be Made from Separator Cream—Moisture Content Must Be Determined Before Shipment.

(By Mr. L. R. Lang, in charge of Scoring Contest at University of Illinois).

The Illinois exhibit of butter for May was of high quality. The average score was 92.11 and 93 per cent of the entries scored 93 or above. There were twenty entries with one creamery submitting two tubs for analysis and criticism which would give information on two methods of manufacture in use.

The butter was characterized by clean flavor and few color defects. The butter in this exhibit proves that Illinois buttermakers can make high grade butter out of hand separator cream. Only one maker reports that whole milk was received and this did not receive the highest score.

Moisture Content Figures.
Some interesting results relative to the moisture content of the samples were noticeable. One maker churned a 38 per cent cream which was cooled to 44 degrees F. and held at 50 degrees F. for nine hours before churning. The test of this cream is higher than considered best for normal churning and this high percentage of fat may have been conducive to high moisture. It took 45 minutes to churn this butter and this indicates that the temperature must have been as low as stated. The moisture content of this butter, as determined by duplicate chemical tests of the sample taken from the tub, was 16.74 per cent. This instance is given to call the buttermaker's attention to the fact that the moisture content must be determined before making shipments.

Three samples exceeded the limit of 16 per cent. These samples were all carefully taken and the tests made in duplicate.
Another entry of butter had the following analysis: Water, 12.29; fat, 82.89; salt, .05, and curd, .77. This butter was exceedingly gritty because 12.29 pounds of water per hundred pounds of fat will only dissolve 3.27 pounds of salt which is in percentage composition 3.27 per cent high. Uniformly dissolved salt is not a possible result with such low moisture. Fifteen per cent of moisture is sufficient to dissolve a trifle less than four per cent of salt.

The solubility of salt and its relation to the water content must be considered if the buttermaker intends to make butter of uniform composition. The average composition of the butter exhibited was moisture, 81.61; salt, 2.84, and curd, .98.
Highest Score at Freeport.
The butter receiving the highest score of 94.5 was made by F. W. Larson of the Freeport Creamery company. The cream was pasteurized at 170 degrees F. and 15 per cent of starter was added. The cream was not held at ripening temperature but was cooled to 46 degrees F. and churned five hours later at 48 F. This butter was clean in flavor and showed good workmanship.

Peter J. Peterson of Round Lake, Ill., received the second highest score which was 94.2. Mr. Peterson has been experimenting with the parcel post as a method of shipping in his butter and although fairly satisfactory in colder weather the body of the butter was affected in this entry. No method plank was received and no dates of manufacture is at hand. The butter was of fine flavor.

The butter made by the Sanitary Creamery company of Amboy, Ill., received the third highest score, which was 93 1/2. This was churned from 1,900 pounds of 22 per cent cream. This cream was pasteurized and 20 per cent of skim milk starter was added. It was ripened at 63 degrees for three hours, then cooled to 48 degrees and churned at 56 degrees the following morning. This butter was clean in flavor and showed no defects except those arising from the softening of the butter in transit.

The date of the June scoring contest will be announced later. It is possible it will be held at the time of the meeting of the Central Illinois Creamery's club in Champaign. Notification will be made by letter.

RESTRAINT IN AGRICULTURE HAS INTERESTING PHASES

Bumper Crops Not Always Most Profitable for Individuals—Is Argument Advanced—Combination to Retrain Production Is Impossible.

(By Charles L. Stewart, Department of Economics, University of Ill.)
Some who oppose soil improvement feel themselves to be supported by self evident facts. They maintain that bumper crops frequently give smaller profits to the farmer than short crops. They urge, therefore, that farmers are foolish to concern themselves about increasing their yields.

In the case of products for which there is a steady demand it may be admitted that a shortage is frequently the occasion of an increase in price relatively greater than the decrease in production. The cost of harvesting and marketing is less, if anything, when the crop is small. In so far as neglect of the soil cuts down the total production it tends towards such an elevation of prices, values and profits. Enlarged profits are the basis of higher rents and higher land prices. Is not neglect of the soil, therefore, a profitable thing for farmers?

Cause of Soil Exhaustion.
Historically, soil exhaustion has been an incidental consequence of the efforts of farmers to market the largest possible amount of products per man. When land was cheaper it paid to farm the largest possible area, and to change to fresher land in the course of time.

This did not usually involve the largest production per acre, though in some cases the largest production per acre may have been raised. Now it is argued that it is best to aim at small production per acre, even though, because of the absence of new and cheap land, such a practice today would reduce the production per individual.

It is true that concerted action by farmers reducing crop acreages or yields would have the effects indicated. If all the farmers who could possibly or profitably raise certain crops should reduce their production of each of those crops by half, the unit price of the products raised might possibly be more than tripled and the profits of the farmers be more than quadrupled. With the rise in profits would come higher rents and soaring land prices. Both the enlarged profits and the increased property values would arise from the tribute paid by consumers because of their dependence upon farm produce. Farm owners would get the lion's share in this advantage, for tenants and farm laborers, though able to save more money perhaps, would certainly find the ownership of the land that was affected by the combination still further removed from their reach. The consuming population not engaged in agriculture would not gain anything, though paying the tribute of high prices. Such might be the power of producers in controlling the market.

When that part of the earth's surface which can possibly or profitably be devoted to raising particular crops is limited, the position of those controlling the operations of that area is essentially the same as that of owners of land with precious mineral deposits beneath it, or, as that of those owning areas which are at a high premium for business or residential purposes. Those controlling such areas, by working together, could have monopolistic advantages, and could make extortions from those purchasing their products in so far as consumers find these products indispensable.

Agreement Would Not Stand.
That all farmers, or even any large minority of them, could be brought consciously into such concert is scarcely thinkable. However, suppose we imagine that all, or virtually all of them should agree to form such a "combination in restraint" of production. Even under the regime of this combination the individual farmer could make the greatest profits for himself by breaking away from the agreement and pushing his production to the very highest figure. If we could imagine people sufficiently lacking in public spirit consciously to conceive of such a project, we should have individuals whose lack of scruples would argue against the keeping of their contracts.

Railroad pools and "gentlemen's agreements" in whatever lines have been violated persistently even when no increase of rates or prices occurred during the life of the agreement. It is still less thinkable that farmers would keep such an agreement, especially if prices were rising. The fact that the immediate interest of the individual inevitably leads him away from the policy of reduced production—and all the more so as prices rise—is sufficient safeguard against a universal reduction of farm production through conscious agreement so long as land ownership is enjoyed by numerous independent farmers.

CANADA TO WELCOME NEW CARDINAL.
Quebec, June 18.—Arrangements on an elaborate scale were completed today for the reception of His Eminence Cardinal Beign on his arrival here from Rome the first of the week. The demonstration will begin with an official reception on Tuesday afternoon and will continue until the following Sunday. Among the features will be a municipal banquet, a reception at the city hall, a presentation of an address by the clergy and the celebration of pontifical high mass at the Basilica, with a sermon by Abbe Camille Roy.

FATTENING STEERS ON SILAGE RATIONS

RESULTS OF EXPERIMENTS AT PURDUE UNIVERSITY SHOWN.

Results Announced at Meeting of Indiana Cattle Feeders' Association—Silage Proves a Money Saver Among Feeds.

Results of 175 day feeding trials at the Indiana experiment station presents strong evidence in favor of feeding corn silage and cheap roughage in fattening steers. The results were announced to over 400 farmers at the seventh annual spring meeting of the Indiana Cattle Feeders' association held at Purdue University May 16. The most profitable lot of steers shown in accompanying illustration, received shelled corn, cottonseed meal, corn silage and oat straw. In this lot was $12.94; without pork, $4.94. Seven lots of steers were fed all except two of which received silage in their rations. Three lots cost money when the pork is not taken into account, among these three were the two lots which did not receive

Lot (6) of steers that made a gain of $4.94 profit per steer, not including pork, and $12.94, including pork at Purdue, Indiana, Experiment Station.

silage. The loss in the one silage fed lot is attributed to its consumption of over 8,000 pounds of $18 a ton alfalfa hay, which materially increased the cost of gains.

Economy of Silage.

Results of previous experiments at both the Indiana and Illinois stations attest to the economy in feeding silage, and in using oat straw or other cheap roughage, when fed in connection with corn, silage and cottonseed meal, instead of such costly roughages as alfalfa and clover hay. When receiving silage and cottonseed meal, cattle have a natural craving for some sort of roughage. This must be satisfied if good results are obtained. Prof. F. G. Kings, who had charge of the latest experiment, says that it apparently makes no difference what kind of roughage is used to satisfy this craving as long as it is wholesome. Corn stover, oat straw or even bright wheat straw probably serves the purpose fully as well as clover or alfalfa. Neither is the difference in the amounts of straw and the leguminous hay consumed large enough to appreciably disturb the nutritive ratio. Clover and alfalfa hay, however, may be raised much cheaper than the experiment station pay for either. The fertilizing value of the legumes should also be considered, therefore making the problem of what roughage to feed one that each feeder must decide for his own particular conditions.

The cattle used were mostly grade Shorthorns and were bought on the Kansas City market last fall. When put on feed the steers weighed an average of slightly under 1,000 pounds each. They were fed from November 20 to May 14, a period of 175 days. All of the lots made an average daily gain of more than two pounds per steer. Lot 6, which made the most profit, also made the fastest gains. The average daily gain per steer in this lot was 2.54 pounds. In the feed lots at Purdue these steers cost $7.45 per hundred. They were valued two days after the experiment closed by representatives of Chicago and Indianapolis commission firms at from $8.40 to $8.70 per hundred. The valuations given at Purdue allow 50 cents per hundred for the expense of marketing. In past years the experimental steers fed at the Indiana station have always sold for more than they were appraised at before leaving the feed lots.

Each lot contained 10 steers, except lot 6, where one of the 10 died. Lot 1 received shelled corn, soy bean meal silage and oat straw. Lot 2 received shelled corn, cottonseed meal and clover hay. In lot 3 alfalfa hay was substituted for clover hay in lot 2. Lots 4, 5, 6 and 7 all received shelled corn, cottonseed meal and corn silage, different roughages being fed. Lot 4 received clover hay, 5 and 6 oat straw, and 7 alfalfa hay. Soy bean meal was included in the ration of lot 1 in place of cottonseed meal to compare the two, as quite a number of Indiana feeders are following that practice. This experiment indicated that there is little difference in the values of the two feeds. As compared with lot 6, where cottonseed meal was fed instead of soy bean meal and the ration otherwise the same, the cottonseed meal fed cattle brought 10 cents more in price. The soy bean lot made 50 pounds more pork than lot 6. When pork is considered, there is a difference of only $1.72 in favor of the cottonseed, while there is an advantage of $2.53 when pork is not taken into account. At the end of the first three months lot 1 and 6 were about equal in finish. Soy beans proved more laxative than the cottonseed meal, notably for the last three months of the experiment.

Lots 2 and 3, where clover hay and alfalfa hay, respectively, were fed in connection with corn and cottonseed meal, but no silage, lost money. The was due to a combination of too expensive roughages and lack of silage. In justice to lot 3 it should be noted that the steers of this lot would have sold for 10 cents more per hundred had it not been for a single poor steer that did not make as good a showing as his lot mates.

For several years the cattle fed silage at the Indiana station have finished out better than those not receiving silage. The same held true in the last experiment. The only difference in the rations of lots 2 and 4 was the addition of silage to the latter, thus affording an opportunity to compare the value of silage. The silage fed lot sold for 10 cents per hundred more than lot 2. Including pork, the silage fed bunch made $4.22 more profit per head than the steers that had no silage. Not including pork, the difference was still greater.

GETTING READY FOR THE HAY CROP

SOME UNDERLYING CAUSES OF MOWER TROUBLES.

Operator Should Put Machines in Order Now—Proper Relations Between Ledger Plates and Sickle Sections Will Keep Blade Sharp.

The mower, like the binder, has more or less delicate parts which need attention, and when once we stop to become familiar with the troubles, the remedies will be found very simple. The mower should be put in repair before the haying season opens. Overhaul it now. The operator who enters the hay field with his last year's mower unrepentant is courting trouble. A half hour spent on the cutter bar before the season opens is time well spent.

Before discussing troubles it will be well to get clearly in mind the function of each cutter bar part. The cutting or shearing plate attached to the mower guard is known as the ledger plate. The sickle sections moving over the ledger plates act exactly as a number of pairs of shears. If shears are loose we are well aware of how the material to cut will force the blades apart and wedge between the shears without being cut off. This same condition exists in a mower when the clip shown in Fig. 1 does not hold the sickle down into close proximity with the ledger plates, and uneven stubble and heavy side draft results as the grass stems are chewed and pulled off rather than cut off easily, as would be done by well adjusted shears. Keeping this in mind, let us discuss troubles and remedies under the following heads:

Uneven Stubble.
Side draft is caused by (a) a guard being bent down or up out of line. If the guard is bent down, its ledger plate is carried away from the sickle. If it is bent up it lifts the sickle off the ledger plates of adjacent guards. In either case stems wedge between the sickle and ledger plate and are crushed off rather than being cleanly and easily cut. Lift the outer end of the cutter bar and sight along the bottom of the guards across points about an inch from the guard ends. If a guard is found to be bent up or down, drive it back into proper alignment with a hammer, striking it a little way back of its point and where its stock is the thickest.

(b) Clips may be worn. It is a very common occurrence to find the wearing faces between clips and sickle sufficiently worn to allow the grass to raise the sickle from the ledger plates and tend to wedge between the two. This results in uneven, ragged stubble, and causes heavy draft as well as excessive side draft. Due to the fact that many stems are chewed or pulled off and act as a load that tends to pull back on the cutter bar as the machine moves to the front. Bend the clips down by tapping with a hammer, providing the operator is careful to test the sickle by moving it by hand after each stroke to make sure that he has not caused it to bind. The sickle sections must be held down very close to the ledger plates, but must not bind at any point. The wearing plate shown in Fig. 1 is adjustable. Move it to the front a trifle to keep the sickle bar from suffering too much play from front to back. Or, course, badly nicked or rounded ledger plate edges and a dull sickle will add to the trouble. No good operator need be told the necessity of keeping his sickle sharp, but if the proper relations is maintained between the ledger plates and sickle sections the necessity and frequency of sharpening will be materially lessened. If wearing plates are badly worn, new ones should be supplied. It does not behoove us to tolerate a badly nicked ledger plate and during the busy season we are justified in replacing the nicked guard by a whole new one rather than in stopping to rivet in a new plate.

Sickle May Not Center.
(c) The sickle may not be "centering," which means that at the end of its stroke the sickle does not stop with its sickle points in the center of the guards. Fig 1 shows such a condition. Stems at H then remain uncut until the sickle has made a second trip to the left. At the end of its stroke the sickle should register in the center of the guards as shown in Fig. 2. It can be made to do so by lengthening or shortening the dragbar. Some mowers have special centering adjustments. Study your machine carefully for such arrangements and take advantage of them.

A later article will speak of Sickle breaking, heavy draft and side draft.

PICNIC SUPPER.
Members of the Coterie Club of Joy Prairie and vicinity enjoyed their annual picnic on the lawn of the Joy Prairie Congregational church Thursday evening. Between forty and fifty people were present and as a matter of course all had a fine time. There was no formal program but all devoted themselves to making the occasion pleasant and they succeeded admirably. Among the guests were David Kilpatrick of Bluffs and Miss Florence Rice of Jacksonville.

Mr. Shepherd of Springfield, field man for the state livestock commission, was a business visitor in the city Friday.

MOULDS ARE FATAL TO FOWLS OLD AND YOUNG

Disease May Appear in Lungs or Intestines—Birds as Symptoms Develop Fall Over From Weakness.

(Press Bulletin of Missouri Agricultural Experiment Station.)

Mouldy litter in poultry houses and mouldy feed are the cause of a large number of deaths among poultry and particularly among chicks. These moulds taken into the body of the fowl causes a disease known as Aspergillosis. The disease is as fatal as the name sounds. Our scientists have neglected to find a shorter name for the disease, but among poultry men chicks affected with the trouble are commonly spoken of as "lungers." Many times the disease is mistaken for white diarrhea. The Missouri college of agriculture, in its investigation of poultry disease notes the following characteristic symptoms: The chick stands around in a drowsy manner and shows little desire to eat. The wings hang down, the breath is rapid and a white diarrhea is present.

An affected chick will be found to have soft, yellow growths from the size of a pin head to that of a pea, mainly in the lungs, but sometimes in the intestines and mesentery. These growths, clog the air passages of the lungs, are directly responsible for the death of affected birds.

In mature fowls there are two forms of the disease. The mucous membrane lining the air sacs and tubes may be covered with a membranous formation which is soft and yellowish and has an offensive odor, or the post mortem will reveal white of yellowish nodules imbedded in the tissues of the lungs.

Early symptoms are that the bird is inactive, sleepy and if forced to run will fall from exhaustion; breathing is rapid, appetite is diminished and more or less catarrh is present.

There is no cure for the trouble, but since it is caused by eating mouldy feed or by being permitted access to mouldy litter, it can be entirely prevented by not compelling fowls to eat mouldy food and by keeping them away from mouldy litter.

This is just one of the many poultry troubles that can be entirely avoided by reeding nothing but fresh clean feed and keeping the pens and yards free from filth and moulds.

DISORGANIZATION AND CONFUSION IN EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENTS

State Efficiency and Economy Committee Makes First Preliminary Report—Finds Much Waste.

Chicago, June 18.—Disorganization and confusion in the executive departments of the state producing inefficiency and waste in state service has been found by the state efficiency and economy committee appointed by the past general assembly which made its first preliminary report today. Walter I. Manny, state senator of Mt. Sterling, is chairman of the committee. The committee recommended a reorganization of the executive body, now consisting of about 190 departments into not more than 12 branches under department heads appointed by the governor and responsible to him for the proper conduct of the offices.

The executive branch now employs about 6,000 persons and expends about $17,000,000 annually, according to the report.
"The unnecessary duplication of positions and salaries is a considerable item," the report continued, "but this is the smallest part of the loss. The work that is undertaken is not well done and costs much more than with a more efficient organization."

The reorganization plan would permit the governor to submit at the beginning of each general assembly a scientific budget as provided by the constitution the report said, and would result in greater economy and efficiency. John A. Farlee, professor of political science in the University of Illinois, was in charge of the investigational work of the committee.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS

Jacksonville Citizens Testify for the Public Benefit.

A truthful statement of a Jacksonville citizen, given in her own words, should convince the most skeptical about the merits of Doan's Kidney Pills. If you suffer from backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, urinary disorders or any form of kidney ills, use a tested kidney medicine.

A Jacksonville citizen tells of Doan's Kidney Pills.
"Could you demand more convincing proof of merit?"
Mrs. J. H. Allen, 430 South Main street, Jacksonville, Ill., says: "I can strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for they did me a world of good. Often I was so dizzy that I couldn't see and I also felt nervous. My kidneys were weak and I had backache. Doan's Kidney Pills fixed me up in good shape."

If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Allen had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

CHANGES IN THE CATTLE BUSINESS

TENDENCY OF LAST GENERATION HAS BEEN CENTRALIZATION.

Increased Land Values have Brought Varying Conditions—Shortage has Become the Most Important Factor in the Cattle Industry.

(H. W. Mumford, Chief Department of Animal Husbandry, University of Illinois.)

The tendency of the live stock trade for the last generation has been centralization. When I refer to the live stock trade, I include the production, marketing, manufacturing and distributing phases of the business. This tendency has grown so naturally and so rapidly that few have realized its extent.

A generation ago the fertile farms of Illinois were well stocked with broad backed, well bred herds of beef breeding cattle. Farms without such herds were the exception. Why? Because these herds proved profitable. They proved profitable because the price received for them was in proportion to the cost of production and almost universally was the margin between the cost of production of cattle and the market price greater and represented a super profit to the producer than the margin between the cost of producing corn and roughage and the market price for these products.

In Days of Ranges.
With the opening up and stocking of the western range where it was possible to run large herds at nominal cost, it soon became evident that the corn belt cattle raiser could not successfully compete with the ranchmen in the raising of feeding cattle. In other words, the corn belt cattle men could purchase feeding cattle for less than he could produce them. Gradually, then, corn belt cattle men became cattle feeders or finishers and not cattle raisers. The handling of cattle in large herds was thus encouraged. But slightly later in point of time came increased value of land and labor and the products of the land, particularly corn. This necessitated buying feeding cattle in the cheapest market. Then came the extension of railroads, the homesteader, the settler, and reclamation in rapid succession, each curtailing the area available for ranching purposes. At lot these agencies in the last analysis ultimately had a tendency to decrease the profits of ranching, which in turn gradually decreased the output of feeding and fat cattle from the range. The reduction was not evident at first, because liquidation kept up the market receipts to an approximate normal.

The inevitable reduction of range supplies was not followed by a resumption of extension of cattle raising throughout the corn belt, because the market price of cattle did not keep pace with increased cost of production. But little in all these changes was more than an attempt on the part of the producers to adjust their practice to changing conditions.

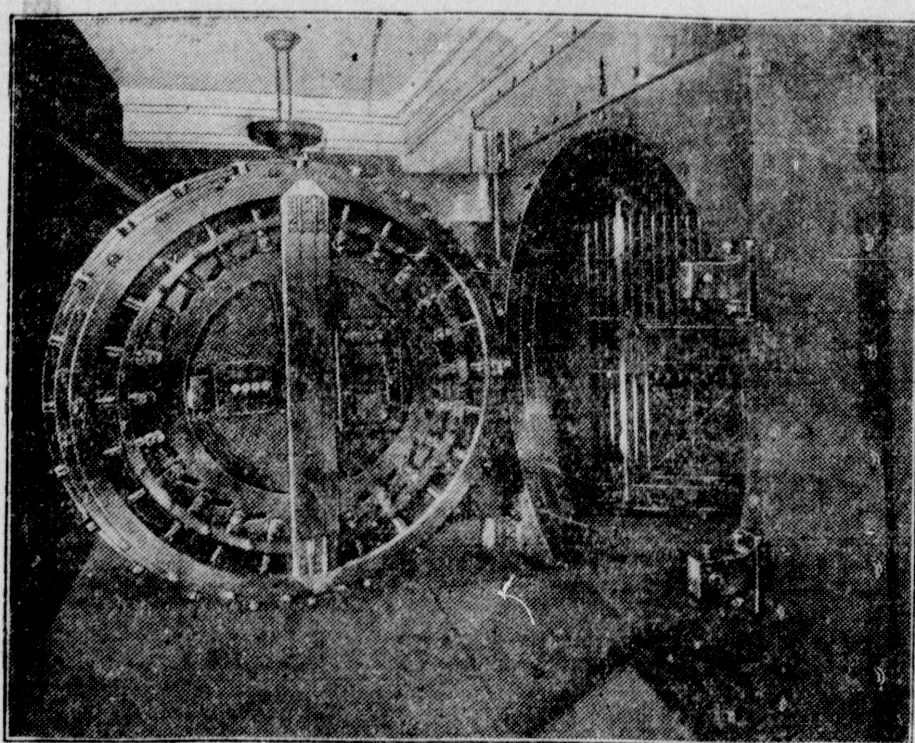

Shortage the Important Fact.
The important fact connected with the cattle raising industry is a marked shortage, the extent and far-reaching effects of which the public has by no means fully realized. The consuming public have complained of the high cost of meats. At times they have accused producers of curing too great profits from the business. Let there be no mistake, or misunderstanding. The present shortage is due primarily to the fact that farmers have found meat production, and primarily beef production, less profitable than other agricultural enterprises. We are not soon, if ever again, to be threatened with an over production and cheap meat. An increased supply will come not as a result of lower prices, but the resumption and extension of beef production will come only as a result of higher prices. Consumers generally do not appreciate the fact that for a generation or more they have been able to buy meat products at a price which does not cover the cost of production under present day conditions. It is obvious that the conditions which have brought about increased cost of meat products will continue to operate even in greater force in the future than they have in the past.

One of the live stock problems is, therefore, to make the public understand that, if an ample supply of meat is assured, the producer must receive more rather than less for his product. In the past the price of cattle has been based, so far as it has been based upon anything, upon free or cheap corn, cheap land and labor, and cheap corn. Even the cattle feeder of the corn belt has been guilty at times of relying for his profit upon sharp practice in buying feeding cattle for less than the cost of production when the producer through drought or misfortune or possibly a lack of knowledge has been forced to sell. None of these conditions surround the industry today.

All will agree that the producer is entitled to a modest profit in cattle production. Obviously, no business can long survive which depends upon sharp practice or upon the depriving of some necessary factor.

CONFIDENCE REMAINS UNSHAKEN
VOLUME OF TRADE IS STEADY

Harvest Prospects—Demand for Iron and Steel Larger.

New York, June 19.—Dun's Review will say tomorrow:

"Confidence remains unshaken and while conditions are not wholly satisfactory yet the volume of trade is very steady. The promise of bountiful harvests is the factor of most weight. Large sales in many lines have been noted and operators in the great agricultural regions of the west and southwest are displaying decidedly more interest. Worsteds mills are busy. On the whole, business in footwear continues backward and generally unsatisfactory, although evidences of improvement are not entirely lacking. Conditions in iron and steel are improved. Failures this week in the United States are 333 against 254 last year."

Bradstreet's Report.

New York, June 19.—Bradstreet's will say tomorrow:

"Excellent all-around crop advices continue to extend the circle of optimism which widens at a greater rate than actual buying. Evidences of improvement in trade are accumulating in the surplus crop growing sections in sharp contrast to essentially industrial regions."

Demand for iron and steel is larger, collections are somewhat easier, traffic on western railroads increasing and heavy sales of wheat for export are noted. Activity is the keynote of Northwestern reports, returns from the winter wheat belt are assuring in the midwest interior distributors are buying more freely."

AT THE MUNICIPAL LIGHT PLANT.

Electric meters which are soon to be installed in the city building have been received and will be placed in position the coming week. The Sangamo type of meter was selected because it was found that the repair parts are inexpensive and an assembled meter costs but a trifle more than one originally complete.

For many years current for the city hall lights has been purchased from the local light company and the purpose now is to have the current taken from the municipal plant. A saving of several hundred dollars a year will thus be effected. Several meters will be used because under a recent state law it is necessary to keep the accounts of the several departments separate.

The final work on the fittings of the new boiler will be done today and steam will be turned on either today or tomorrow. Some adjustments will likely be necessary but it is the expectation that the big three hundred horse-power equipment will be in service Monday.

CHILDREN'S DAY PROGRAM.
The Clark's Chapel Sunday school will give a Children's day program next Sunday at 10:30, also an address by the pastor.

SEVERAL SLING SHOTS.
Several residents of the north part of the city have complained recently of the too free use of sling shots by boys. Armed with a sling and small pebbles or BB shot, a boy is apt to grow careless and window lights or even persons are not safe. On North Main street the matter has become very annoying and it is safe to say that the first offender caught will be severely dealt with.

VISITORS FROM INDIANA.
Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fisher of Hammond, Ind., are in the city for a few days' visit with Mr. and Mrs. George F. LaRue. They came through in their automobile and found the roads in excellent condition, although somewhat dusty.

DEGREES AWARDED.
At the University of Illinois recently Wilson Marshall Smith of Waverly was granted an A. B. degree in arts and letters. The degree of A. M. in education was granted to Edwin Rollin Spencer, also of Waverly.

WILL GO TO SUPREME COURT
ON A WRIT OF ERROR

Road District No. 6 Will Resist Payment of Assessment for Mauvais-terre Creek Drainage District.

Preparations are being made to ask for a supreme court decision with reference to the Mauvais-terre creek drainage district proposition. Worthington, Reeve & Green are attorneys for road district No. 6 and they will take the matter to the supreme court on a writ of error. It is the intention to prepare the case immediately, with the end in view of getting a decision at the October term of the court.

The law makes it possible to take a case of this kind to the supreme court on a writ of error within three years from time of spreading the assessment. One of the grounds on which the higher court will be asked to knock out the proceedings in the county court will be the claim that the county court did not have proper jurisdiction. Should this contention be upheld by the supreme court, then the assessment against road district No. 6, or against any others who join in the action would be null and void. The finding, however, would have no reference whatever to any other land holders and the progress of the work will not be interfered with.

The fact that a large number of the property owners are willing to pay their assessments makes it possible to proceed with the work. In making the petition for a writ of error it would be possible for the petitioners to have the work stopped until a finding was made on their petition. If this were asked, however, it would be necessary for a very heavy bond to be filed and such action is not contemplated in the present case. As stated before, the finding by the supreme court will affect only the petitioners.

THE NEW WATERWORKS.

To the Journal:

Almost too good for Jacksonville! Can it be possible that at last this city has found an adequate supply of water—a water suitable for all purposes? A visit to the wells in the gravel beds northeast of the city a few days ago afforded an opportunity to quite a number of the business and professional men of the city to witness a very novel and interesting sight. Pipes eight inches in diameter and five in number are pouring into a cement box five streams of water, clear as crystal, from five different wells, each well about 70 feet deep and penetrating into water bearing gravel beds.

The pump that lifts the water from the wells and also the large pumps that force the water into the mains and into the reservoir upon the hill are all operated by the electric current generated at the city plant at North and Sandy streets, owned by the city. It seems almost too good to be true that after almost fifty years of search for a water supply, and the expenditure of over half a million of dollars, and well over the half million mark, counting the expenditures of the river water company—that just at the city's back door are extensive deposits of water-bearing gravel that experts say are the best that have been so far found in the state. A gusher of coal oil would be a great thing, but of no such significance or value as this water-bearing gravel to the city.

It seems incredible that we should have drilled for artesian wells to a depth of 3,000 feet to get salt brine when at 70 feet wells can be drilled in a day at trifling cost, to the very best kind of water. It certainly looks as if the city's ill luck is beginning to turn.

How came these gravel beds to be here? Glacial deposits, say the geologists. A pre-glacial valley filled in some hundred thousand years more or less ago, may account for them. No matter; the drill shows they are there. The pumping will tell whether the water is also there. So far the tests have proven all that can be expected of the best gravel beds in the world. All pumps in gravel beds tend to leave finer particles of sand in the strainers and clog them, but this can be remedied.

Mr. Cummings of the American Well Works Co., who drilled all the five wells, told me these gravel beds are the best that have been so far discovered in the state, the gravel ranging in thickness from seven feet in one well dug to forty feet in the last one drilled. The whole valley is no doubt underlaid with this water bearing gravel.

Our city council certainly should have the endorsement and encouragement of everybody in their efforts in developing this greatest and most pressing need of the city. It takes no brains to say "I am from Missouri and have to be shown." Take a look at those five streams of water and you will be convinced that Joe Brennan and the rest of the council are on a hot trail of the quarry that has cost so much both in treasure as well as anxiety in the years that are past.

The afternoon was spent in a delightful social manner. The day was also the occasion of a meeting of the Willing Workers of the Alexander M. E. church at the residence of Mrs. Watret, when plans for a dinner to be served at Alexander on July Fourth were discussed. On that date the Alexander Gun Club is to hold a shoot and a number of shooters from different parts of the state are expected to attend.

A Few Weeks More Will See Final Touches Given—Plastering Almost Done.

John Wolke, contractor for the 8th grade building, said yesterday that he thought the building would be complete except possibly some painting work and some of the hardware fitting within four or five weeks. DeCastro & Co. employees are now finishing the plastering work on the first floor and all that on the floors above is already done. The finishing is being done by the carpenters on the third floor and they will be at work on the second floor within a very few days. The force of men busy in the building is so large that practically all of the finishing touches will be given before the end of July.

MANY ORCHARDS INFESTED WITH CODLING MOTH

Pest Has Made Its Appearance in Alarming Numbers Following Dry Season—Suggestions Made by University Horticultural Department.

Many complaints have been made to the Horticultural department of the University of Illinois relative to the Codling moth which is damaging so many orchards. More properly speaking a great many appeals have been sent in for aid and in response the department has issued the following bulletin prepared by O. S. Watkins.

Owing to the dry summer of 1913 and the mild winter following, both of which were favorable for the reproduction of the codling moth or apple worm, many throughout the state are being infested with ever increasing numbers of one of the most dreaded apple pests. Fruit-growers and farmers who desire to continue to grow marketable fruit are urged to examine their fruit and determine if early sprays have failed to keep the codling moth in check. If the insect is found to be continuing its work, using 2 to 3 pounds of paste or 1 to 2 pounds of powdered arsenate of lead combined with 4 pounds of slaked lime for each 50 gallons of spray. This application should be made only to trees having fruit, as it is unnecessary to give it to trees having no fruit.

The orchards showing much infestation, banding of the trunks, will be found an aid in reducing the reproduction of the moths. Scrape all the rough bark off of the trunk and lower limbs, thereby destroying all places for hibernating. Place bands of paper or burlap made from strips 4 or 5 inches wide on the trunk, 6 inches from the ground and directly below the lowest branches. This furnishes an excellent place upon which the worms can locate. In the course of 10 days, the bands should be removed and all adhering worms killed.

Bear in mind if it is the desire to grow marketable fruit in the future, means must be taken at once to check the large number of worms being born this year.

SUSPECT LOCAL PRISONERS OF SEVERAL OTHER BURGLARIES

Men Charged With Entering Stores Are Thought to be Guilty of Other Crimes—Are Held to Circuit Court.

William McLaughlin of Springfield was in the city yesterday in an effort to establish whether or not Frank Watson and Edward Smith, the men arrested Thursday evening on a charge of burglarizing the stores of J. A. Litter and W. E. Murray at Litterberry, were guilty of other similar crimes. Mr. McLaughlin, who is in the employ of H. G. Strumpler of Springfield, visited the men at the county jail, but neither of them would talk.

Mr. McLaughlin stated last night that he is reasonably sure that the men were guilty of burglarizing five houses in Cornland on April 25, one house at Buffalo Hart on the same night, the postoffice and general store at Lowder on May 6 and a store at Cooperstown, southwest of Beardstown. He also stated that he was of the opinion that the men were guilty of committing burglaries at Astoria and LaPrairie. To support his contentions Mr. McLaughlin pointed out that in nearly all of the cases mentioned the burglaries were similar to those at Litterberry. In that articles of clothing, food, knives and razors and a small amount of money were taken. He secured pictures of the prisoners and took them to Springfield with him in an effort to identify them as the men who committed the other crimes.

Watson and Smith waived examination in Squire Dyer's court Friday on a charge of burglary and larceny and in default of bond in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance at the November term of the Circuit court, they were committed to the county jail.

Little Florence Eades, a niece of the bride, acted as ringbearer and carried the ring concealed in a white lily.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Joseph Eades. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. John Boland of East State street and is a former resident of this city. She was graduated from the academic department of Routt College with the class of 1910 and later was book-keeper for the Jacksonville Transfer company. For the past six months she has held a position with Lockman Brothers, jewels, in Springfield.

He was at one time employed at the Jacksonville Transfer company in this city and now holds a responsible position with Oakford & Fahnstock of Peoria. The high esteem in which they are held was attested by the large number of beautiful presents they received. Among the gifts was a handsome chest of silver from Lockman Brothers and employees. MR. SYBRANT IS NINETY ONE.

John Sybrant, one of the long time citizens of Jacksonville was 91 years old Thursday. As Mr. Sybrant has been sick for a number of weeks it was impossible to observe the event although many congratulations were received by mail and by telephone. The splendid spirit of courage and kindness which characterized Mr. Sybrant in his earlier years are still his and although he feels the weakness of old age to some extent he has not by any means lost his interest in life or in those who are near and dear to him. He begins each day with joyfulness and confidently looks forward for a return of strength which will again enable him to take a more active part in affairs. Mr. Sybrant is one of the household of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Douglas and his son George E. Sybrant is with him much of the time.

BABY FALLS FROM BRIDGE; HAS MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Ten Months Old Child of Mrs. Mary Vieira Drops Twenty Feet From Alton Trestle, Grazing Keg of Water.

Emanuel Vieira, the ten months old child of Mrs. Mary Vieira, had a narrow escape from death recently when it fell from the overbridge of the Chicago and Alton railroad, northeast of the city, a distance of twenty feet and sustained a broken arm.

The baby had been taken to the bridge with a number of children to play and in summer manner fell off. The child landed on the edge of a ten-gallon water keg which was setting on a push car belonging to the gang of workmen who were repairing the telegraph lines of the company.

When the baby first fell the men thought it was a rag doll, but soon they heard its screams and ran to see what was the matter. The child was lying between the push car and the hand car. The proper authorities were notified and the baby taken to Passavant hospital, where an X-ray picture was taken, and aside from a fracture of the left arm there were no other bones broken and the boy seems to be recovering satisfactorily.

There was no lid on the water keg and if the baby had fallen a few inches to the west it would have dropped right in the keg. The distance it fell and the position in which it landed makes its escape almost miraculous.

How I Produced 12 Pounds of Beef From One Bushel of Corn.

I bought 44 cattle through Milton Marshall & Co., St. Louis, of Henry Wright, they averaged 961 pounds, March 19, 1914 in St. Louis. I put them in dry lots March 27th, fed them all they would clean up in 30 minutes, crushed corn, cob and all then cooked in the 50 bushel size Wood's Grain Softener.

I put them on grass May 25th, they averaged 1200 lbs. when put on grass. While in dry lot I gave each steer 5 lbs. clover hay. After they ate their grain, I kept out straw before them all the time, but they would not eat over one bale of straw per day. I fed at 6 a. m. and 6 p. m., at regular hours.

I measured the grain fed with a No. 8 scoop, feeding 50 scoops at each feed or 100 scoops per day, all they would clean up. I put in 20 bushels ground cob corn and all into a 50 bushel vat. This will fill it making 50 bushels feed, which makes 4 feeds, all they will clean up. I drew 50 gallons of syrup off and added 50 gallons of water, then added 1 1/2 bushels of ground oats and shorts, with which I am feeding 80 pigs that are doing well.

I will feed the cattle about 30 days longer and would be glad to have any one interested come and see them.
